_Author's Note_

This is a Reboot of my original story of Serenity's Knights. I don't own Sailor Moon so If you haven't read Serenity's Knights go ahead and start reading, If you have, quick note. Overall the plot will be the same to the original but will have some differences, slight plot differences and different characterization from the original. This was done since as a writer I've changed. also some characters names have changed. If you care they will be listed at the bottom. Otherwise enjoy.

>Chapter 1: Sterling

The rain continued to pound down as lighting flashed across the night sky. The only sound was the distance claps of thunder and the pounding of rain on concrete and asphalt.

In the rain hiding under a bridge was Usagi Tsukino. Two weeks ago, Usagi would have been home safe in her bed. But, that was when her life had been whole. That was when her senshi and love had been loyal to her, had supported her. Before they had told her she had to leave the senshi, leave the group. They had never explained why.

That day they had run her over the edge. That day Usagi took all the money she had and flew to America. She wasn't sure where, all Usagi knew was she had to run, had to leave. Everyone she had fought and sacrificed for couldn't have done this to her.

That was two weeks ago.

Now Usagi had no money, nowhere to go, no idea which city she was in, and spoke no English.

Which led to this. Usagi sat crying no idea what to do. Wondering why she had done this? Why they had done this to her?

Then something caught her attention. The sound of splashes.

A young woman runs under the bridge and pauses a moment pulling out her cell phone to look at.

Usagi huddles against the wall trying to blend in so the woman didn't see her. Though Usagi did take a moment to look over the woman. She was wearing dark jeans, tennis shoes, a gray hoodie, backpack on, she looked a bit taller than Usagi herself and had light skinned like Usagi, though the teenager couldn't see any of her other features due to her hood being pulled up.

The woman muttered to herself for a bit then put her phone up, and turned to leave when she noticed Usagi.

The blonde tried to move closer to the wall not liking woman's interest in her and tried to say something to her but alas Usagi still had not learned to properly speak English.

"I can't understand you, please leave me alone," Usagi tried to explain as the young woman knelt before her.

"Serenity?"

Everything around Usagi seemed to slow down. How? How did she know that name? How did this woman know Usagi's true name?! Something only her enemies and allies know?!

The woman removed her hood and her silver eyes met Usagi's blue as she said some more words she didn't understand.

Usagi's eyes broke from the woman's as she scanned her face, all of it was familiar like it was from a hazy dream, especially her blonde hair that was the exact same shade as Usagi's.

"Serenity," As the young woman wraps her in a hug, Usagi's world goes black.

Sterling Aydan could say a lot about Serenity, the first thing that came to mind as she forced her way up the stairs carrying the moon princess on her back was that she was rather heavy.

Honestly Sterling could have activated her hyper strength and made it easier but that would have been a waste of energy so she settled for the piggy back ride.

Sterling managed to balance Serenity and her backpack as she opened her apartment door and stumbled in dropping her bag at the door as she navigate her and Serenity to her room.

The 21 year old was thankful that Jasper and Tristian were still out shopping for groceries, she did not want them to disturb the clearly not distressed princess.

After kicking her door open she managed to get Serenity inside and placed her on her bed, she looked her over for only a second before deciding she need fresh clothes.

As she pulled out some of her pajamas she couldn't help but muse. She hadn't taken care of Serenity like this in years, thousands of years. It was weird especially since it looked like Sterling was older than Serenity now.

Soon, Sterling had a freshly pajamed Serenity lying in her bed. She sighed, hundreds of questions were floating in her head about what was Serenity doing in America instead of Japan with her senshi? Why was she under the bridge? Why does she look so horrible?

Eventually the blonde gave up her musing and decided a nice shower was in order and probably a nap on the couch was in order, provide Addison didn't wake her up.

She would just have to talk to Serenity once she wakes up.

>Chapter 2: Welcome

Usagi woke up to the sound of voices. Her initial thought was to go back to sleep, and she almost did if not for the fact that she noticed this was not her bed.

The blonde shot up and looked around, she was in a bedroom, it was a little average, a twin bed, a bookshelf, desk, and side table were in it. She would have looked around a bit more if not for the fact that a young man popped his head in.

Usagi yelped for a moment as the young man smiled. She calmed down as she noticed his black hair and dark green eyes, he had an aura that almost reminded her of Setsuna.

"My apologies for startling you, Princess," He told her in Japanese, "But Sterling and I have finished breakfast so if you would like some please come out."

Confused beyond belief Usagi and hungry from the lack of food getting to her had, her getting out the bed pausing for a moment to noticing she was now dressed in star pajamas than her clothes from last night.

Usagi followed the man out the door and found herself in a kitchen area where a teenage boy, resembling the young man but with gold eyes rather than green, sat at a table waiting on food.

The boy noticed Usagi and waved at her, "Serenity, it's good to see you again."

"Manners, Tristian!" the man scolded, "I apologize, Princess. Tristian seems to have forgotten his manners living in this life."

Usagi nodded still not getting the gist of anything besides that they must be from the moon kingdom and knew her as Serenity.

It was at that point that that a brown haired young man and the blonde woman from last night came from the kitchen placing food on the table. Usagi had to stare at the young man for a moment, he may have had brown hair and eyes but despite that he held a strong resemblance to Mamoru.

The Mamoru look alike and woman sat down as did the other man.

Usagi took the cue and sat down as well looking down at the pancakes in front of her.

The young man looked at her before speaking, "So, I'm Jasper Kurosawa, this is my brother Tristian," he motioned to the teenager, "his name is Addison Prince," he motioned to the Mamoru look alike and then to the blonde that she had assumed must have rescued her, "She's Sterling Aydan."

Usagi took quick note the names then introduced herself, "Im Usagi Tsukino."

Jasper turned to Sterling and Addison and told them something in English before turning back to Usagi, "Usagi, do you know understand celestial?"

The reincarnated moon princess looked completely confused till Sterling spoke in a language that was fast, melodic, but somehow forceful all at one. But most amazing of all, a language that Usagi understood.

"_This is celestial. Do you understand?_"

Serenity numbly nodded, "_I do." _

"_Good. Now we can talk with little trouble. Tell me-"_ Sterling began but was cut off by Usagi.

"_Wait, Wait, Wait, explain what's going on! Who are you? Why are you helping me?!" _She asked frustrated with the situation.

The four strangers shared a look before Sterling looked at Usagi sadly, "_Do you know who I am? Actually better question. Do you know who you are, Serenity?"_

"_By the way you worded that I'm guessing you're asking if I know I'm Princess Serenity? I do know that but I don't know who any of you are," _Usagi replied.

"_Wish I could say I'm surprised. I'm not," _the older blonde commented, "_Well, to explain who I amâ€¦I'm your sister."_

Usagi stared blankly at Sterling taking in the familiarity of her face, "_Wh- What?!_"_

"_I'm the reincarnation of Princess Tala of the Moon Kingdom, younger sister of Princess Serenity. Thus making me your sister Usagi," _Sterling explained calmly, then motioned to the males in the room, "_Addison, Jasper, and Tristian are the reincarnations of my friends from back then: Aeolian, Alecto, and Cassiel." _

Still trying to wrap her mind her around this Usagi asked, "_Why can't I remember you?"_

"_I doubt the Queen ever expected to need us, I doubt she realized we were reincarnated. So remembering us wasn't a priority. We died during the Battle of Eris, a good month before the Fall of the Moon Kingdom. Along with most of the other Knights," _Jasper explained.

"_Knights?" _

"_Knights, or rather Mystic Knights are magical warriors that train from an early age to be a peace keeper representing an attribute or ideal. The Four of us are knights," _Addison answered this time, his eyes narrowing on her_, "But honestly Usagi enough about us. Why are you in America? Alabama for that matter of all places. Where's Endymion and the Senshi? Why were you under that bridge in the rain?"_

The moon princess looked around and saw the concerned looks on their faces and she broke, tears began pouring down her face as she choke out the words, "Iâ€¦.theyâ€¦.they forced me toâ€¦.i had to leaveâ€¦.my senshiâ€¦.my senshi didn'tâ€¦.Mamoruâ€¦they made me leaveâ€¦said I wasn't a princess worthâ€¦.dyâ€¦.dying for anymore." _

Suddenly arms were around her as Sterling hand her wrapped in a hug. Usagi risked a look at Addison, Jasper, and Tristian and was surprised to see the shocked looked on their faces.

"Endymion?"

"Pluto?"

"Saturn?"

"_Them too." _

"_They don't know what they're missing then." _ Was Sterling's reply.

>Chapter 3: Shinnetou

It had only been about five days since Usagi had moved in with the Knights, luckily they had a spare room in their apartment since Jasper and Tristian shared a room.

The heroine was so relieved to be taken in. They had been nothing but kind to her since she got here. Addison would invite her in the kitchen all the time to cook with him, Tristian had been entraining her with video games and anime he had, Jasper had created a new identity for her as Bunny Shields (Sterling's "cousin") for her stay in America, and Sterling had been amazing emotional support.

Today though was interesting, Usagi had been woken up and told that they had to go shopping for her. Though Usagi could get away with wearing Sterling's clothes she couldn't keep wearing them since one Sterling was taller than Usagi making her clothes baggy and two Sterling didn't have enough clothes to support two people.

Dressed in the less baggy of Sterling clothes, Usagi came out of her room to hear laughing and was surprised to see four men standing with the knights in the living room.

Usagi recognized the men immediately.

They were the Dark Kingdom Generals.

"_Usagi, do yo- "_

"MOON ETERNAL MAKE UP!"

Within seconds Sailor Moon was in Usagi's place. She picked up a dish and tossed it at Jadeite yelling "Moon Tiara Action!"

This hit Jadeite in the face earning a yelp and blood to be gushing from his nose.

"_What are you doing?! Stop! They're not our enemies!" _Addison explained as he jumped up with Zositie to check on Jadeite.

"_They attacked me and the senshi, tried to kill me, and take over the world," _Sailor Moon accused the generals, "_I can't take any chances."_

Sterling stepped in between Sailor Moon and the Shitennou, preventing any more attacks by the moon senshi.

"_Usagi, these aren't those Generals. These are the true Shitennou. Those you meet were clones made by the Dark Kingdom, "_Jasper explained calmly as he could.

Sterling picked up from there, "_You have to understand these generals would never hurt us. We know them."_

Sailor Moon glared at the Shitennou still unconvinced.

Tristian looking sad turns to Kunzite and points to him, "_This is Hadi Kader. He takes me to my soccer games every Saturday. He took me to get my learners' permit cause no else could. He can't cook to save his life. But he is Kunzite too."_

Sailor Moon raised her eyebrows as Addison motioned to Zoisite, "_This is Callum Eszes. He's Hadi stepbrother. He and Hadi came to America when he was 10. He has been in my class ever since. He constantly berates my eating habits since he wants to be a doctor one day and he also happens to be Zoisite."_

Sterling gives her sister a look, "_Nephrite is now Eli Starr. He and I go once a month star gazing. His tarot card readings are usually spot on and he makes the best meat loaf ever."_

Jasper having just helped Jadeite up finished up, "_He's Yu Wen. His dad is from China but he has lived here his entire life. He loves to play video games, football, and jokes. Yu is always willing to help us when we need to. And he happens to be Jadeite."_

Sailor Moon looked over the four knights protecting and trying to convince the princess of the innocence, "_So, are we having Eli's meat loaf tonight?"_

â€|..

Sterling, Addison, Hadi, and Callum were all sitting in Hadi's car going to meet the other's at the mall.

"So, what are we doing about all this?" Callum asked his voice laced with his Irish accent.

"Nothing," was Sterling's respond.

"Nothing?" Callum asked confused.

"Unless provoked. Nothing. No wants to hurt the senshi or Endymion. As much as we are angry and confused about this whole stituation there still people we don't want to knowingly attack. Especially with the little information we have at the moment ," Sterling explained simply, "So we will focus on what's important. Usagi."

Addison and Callum shared a look.

Hadi gave Sterling a soft smile, "Agreed. We will wait."

4. Two Years Later

Author's Note

I own none of the characters expect my ocs. I originally had planned this chapter to be a "montage" of the two years but felt that would be confusing so I decided to skip ahead to this chapter. Review and thanks for reading. The next chapter I promise will have action.

* * *

>Chapter 4: Two Years Later

"Your cousins hot."

"Seriously," Usagi gave her coworkers a look and sighed, "Not this again."

It was conversations like these that make her regret learning English.

"Bunny it's true," her coworker Zachary explained as he continued hanging up clothes.

"She is my cousin," The 19 year old stressed.

"Which makes you best wing girl," Zachary smirked.

It was at that moment that Sterling walked in her work shirt untucked her hair messing as can be, "Bunny, ready? Jasper's got dinner going."

Usagi nodded and grabbed Sterling hand dragging her out the door. Geez, she was so tired of her coworkers saying Usagi and her friends were hot.

â€|.

"Robynn lyth in grene wode bowndyn," Sterling read out loud from her book, the line both began and ended the story she had to read for her class.

It was after dinner and she was reading her book and taking notes while Hadi and Usagi were sparring in front, they made a habit of waiting till it was dark in case someone was going to get fancy with the fight. It turned out Hadi and Usagi ending up getting along very well after the shorted out the whole clone thing.

Over the last two years the Knights and Generals had slowly training Usagi so that she could take care of her self need she. Usagi had really taken off under the Knights and Generals care, she had learned to speak English almost perfectly in about 7 months, had maintained a job at the store Sterling also worked at for a year, had graduated high school and was debating going to college, and was turning into a pretty capable fighter.

Sterling smiled as Usagi nailed Hadi with a frantic swipe in the head with her staff, "Sorry!"

"No Sorries, that was a good hit," Hadi muttered tended his injured head.

"Okay, kids. Time to leave," a police commented as he came up them flashlight right in Sterling's face.

"You'll have to drag me out," Sterling smarted off.

"That's not a way to speak to an officer of the law," the officer continued taking out his cuffs.

"I will chain you to a tree, Yu," Sterling threatened as Yu sat down beside her.

"What if that hadn't been me?" the Jadeite reincarnation asked annoyed.

Sterling rolled her eyes and tried to focus on the text but her eyes keep going back to the line she had read before, "Robin Hood laid in the green woods bound."

"What?" Yu asked confused and he looked at the book, "What is this langue?! Ster, I know Chinese, Japanese, English, and Celestial. I refuse to learn more."

"Its middle English, " the knight explained, "I don't know. It's an eerie tale. Robin Hood dies."

"Heroes die," the police officer commented standing up, "We did."

The younger moon princess felt a chill go up her spine, "I think it more it commenting on how we end how we begin and I don't think I like it."

â€|.

Rei Hino made a mistake she regretted the most two years ago.

It had started with a dream, a premonition. But unlike in the past it wasn't just Rei getting the dream.

Everyone was.

Everyone.

They grew worried, especially Setsuna who had never seen this happen before.

In the dream Usagi was tortured and killed and they could do nothing to protect her.

This led to a decision in retrospect Rei should have objected to. Push Usagi away, get her to run away, to America. Since they knew she would never leave willingly it was there only choice. After all she was too noble to let them fight for her without her being here.

They should have realized the plan was flawed.

Mamoru had a friend that he had made in America that was set to take her in, they knew she would go to America, it's all she ever talked about visiting.

Mamoru's friend had never seen Usagi at the airport.

They had immediately dropped everything and searched for Usagi for a solid four months, but America was so huge. Sure they had a starting point as her plane had been heading to New York but that wasn't enough. They had to give up and go back to Japan, they still had monsters appearing every once in a while.

Whenever Luna and Artemis though that had a lead they checked it out but that's all they could think to do.

There instinct told them that Usagi was safe but Rei couldn't help but wonderâ€¦|.

"Usagi, where are you? Are you safe?"

â€¦|.

Usagi was wrestling with Tristian over the remote as Usagi's dog, a cute Teacup Yorkshire name Nao, barked at them.

Sterling and Jasper sat in the kitchen as they opened their hard lemonade as Addison glared, "I'm going in there in like five minutes."

"And you'll get kicked in the face," Jasper commented as the fighting continued, "again."

>Author's Note 2

Below are the listed ages of the characters. I don't like taking up page time to say how old they are, it slows down the story in my opinion. And for this takes place after Stars for the record.

Kunzite, Setsuna, & Jasper- 25

Mamoru & Sterling- 23

Haruka & Michiru- 22

Jadeite & Nephrite- 21

Usagi, Ami, Rei, Makoto, Minako, Zoisite, & Addison - 19

Tristian- 17

Hotaru- 14

5. Have You Accepted The Light Inside?

Author's Note

Okay Chapter 5. Same disclaimer applies. Thank you beauty readers and reviews. So serious question should the knights have superhero names besides their past life names like the Sailor Senshi. Tell me in the reviews what you think and if yes, how about some suggestions. Thanks.

>Chapter 5: Have You Accepted The Light Inside?

You know Sterling had not seen her day heading down this route.

She would swear up and down she had left for only ten minutes, ten minutes! She had to renew her book for her paper that was it. Then she and Usagi were going to the park to walk Nao.

So imagine Sterling's shock as she left the library to find a monster, a giant robotic ape thing, destroying the parking lot, man was she glad she left her car at home.

Her immediate thought turned to Usagi as she made sure she was okay, after making sure she wasn't around she turned to innocent civilians freaking out.

"Move it! Move it now!" She yelled at the stunned boys and screaming girls.

Of course this didn't stop one dumb ass as she continued staring in horror as a tree was throw as her. The knight cursed as she ran in front of her and protected her creating a shield man out light that the tree bounced off of.

"Aydan?"

Sterling looked at the girl panting heavily and saw it was a girl from her history class, Hannah.

The girl looked terrified and to put her at ease Sterling smirked, "Go tell Dr. Thomas I'm going to be late to class."

The terrible joke seemed to snap Hannah out of it as she ran off leaving Sterling alone with the monster.

"Well this is great!" Sterling let her smile fall as the monster seemed to recognize her as something it wanted to destroy.

You see the real reason Sterling hadn't wanted to start shit with the senshi? The Knights couldn't access their armors, the armors that made them equal to senshi. She didn't have a magic cat like Luna to give her weapons, the only reason the Generals could transform was because their magic stones basically emerge from their bodies when they remembered who they were.

The monster swung its fist and the moon princess jumped out of the way, "Oh shit!"

"Sterling!"

Looking over Sterling saw Sailor Moon appear, "Get out of here!"

"But-"

"Now!"

Cursing Sterling ran off to the side angry and ducked behind the nearest building. Keeping an eye on Sailor Moon it was obvious that the training had paid off as she no longer looked like a flapping duck while dodging but it was obvious she was not going to get a solid hit on her with the speed of the monster.

"Damn it," Sterling cursed wondering if her attacks would really do any real damage without her armor.

She pulled out her phone about to call Hadi when she felt a presence. A presence that shouldn't exist.

"Father?"

Sterling suddenly felt a weight around her neck and grabbed it staring. It was a necklace, a black cord leading to a clip at the end that was attached to dog tag looking thing covered with strange symbols and a piece of metal that looked as though it was meant to be slide up. She knew what this was.

Her armor key.

"Thanks, Father."

She heard a yelp and looked back to see that Sailor Moon had been hit by the monster and was struggle to get up.

She ripped her armor key off and flipped the metal piece unleashing a gush of white light, "Metal Up!" The light engulfed her creating gold armor.

"Usagi!"

One slash later from her sword she had freed Sailor Moon from the grasp of the monster.

"Huh?"

Sterling opened her helmet and allowed Sterling to see her face, "I'll weaken it, you be ready to finish it off."

Getting the gist of what was going on Sailor Moon nodded as Sterling turned to the monster.

"Now I must ask you," Sterling glared at the monster, "Have you accepted the light inside?"

The monster growled as the moon princess powered up her sword, "I'll take that as a no."

The monster charged at Sterling as she jumped up and slashing down, "Moonlight slash!"

A wave of pure white light erupted from her sword at slammed into the monster.

As the monster stumbled to the ground the Knight looked at her sister, "Sailor Moon now!"

Sailor Moon nodded and twirled yelling out, "Starlight Honeymoon Therapy Kiss!"

One wave of energy later the monster was disappearing slowly.

A voice came from the dying creature, causing the princesses to shudder.

"Princessâ€¦Princessâ€¦..Theyâ€¦Will kill youâ€¦."

Sailor Moon and Sterling shared a look as they heard sirens getting closer.

>Author's Note 2

Sterling's full names is Sterling Aydan. Sterling can mean "excellence" or "Little star" while Aydan is a Turkish name meaning "from the moon". Meaning she's the "excellence from the moon"or "Little star from the moon." This can reference the fact that she was a great knight and a great light from the moon.

Sterling's past name Tala can mean"gold" in Persian but it's also the name of a Star Goddess.

Sterling is the Knight of Light meaning she believes there is a light and goodness in everyone. Her attacks and powers are based around light manipulation.

Author's Note

Okay so i don't own anything.

answer to nick's review: 1) of course there's more to the plot, but you have to read it. 2) Its starts a year after the end of Stars. With the time skip it's about three years after the end of the sailor moon series. It's set in modern times as well 3) So, the two major locations are Tokyo (of course) and a small college town in Alabama name River Valley. 4) Ages are at the bottom of chapter 4. 5) Power levels? their the same as at the end of the series.

Also this is mainly base in the original anime though it will have other elements from the other sources.

>Chapter 6: Memories

_Minako was running she knew that but from what. She keep looking around expecting something. Looking for something. _

She scanned the jungles around her, she hears a yell.

"_Rhene!" She yells and turns to run towards it when a person drop from above and lands on her. _

Minako and the attacker struggle till they break apart allowing her to look at her attacker.

_She was a blonde girl around 17 wearing long white pants and white shirt. Minako stared, the clothes looked old, like they belonged in the 16__th__ century or something. _

"_Two of my guys caught Rhene and Aega. Give it up, Psyche," The girl smirked at Minako. _

Minako stared. Psyche? That was her names when she was the princess of Venus. Why was this girl calling her this? Rhene and Aega? That was Ami and Makoto!

Suddenly Rei came flying in with a brown haired boy dressed in blue swinging in from the trees.

"_Antiope!" Minako yelled as she ran up to Rei, "Are you okay?"_

_Everything moved so fast as the boy and girl attacked them again, Rei pushed Minako up knocking her into the boy, thinking fast Minako swerved to wrestle with the boy but eventually found herself restrained on the ground. _

Groaning Minako looked up to see Rei being punched in the face by the girl.

"_Give up!" The girl yelled at Rei._

Of course Rei being stubborn Rei, "Never! I'm a Sailor Senshi and a protector of Princess Serenity!"

_The girl's eyes narrowed and she gritted her teeth at Rei's words and began hitting her again and again, "That so?! What's so god damn special about her!" _

The boy and Minako both looked at Rei and the girl concerned as blood began to appear on Rei's face and the girl's face.

"_I'm just as great as Serenity!" _

"_Stop! Your hurting Mars! Tala stop!"_

â€|_.._

Minako jolted awake sweating, "Wh-What was that dream?"

"Minako?"

Artemis was awake looking concerned.

"Just a dreamâ€|.wait, I think it was a memory," Minako thought back for a moment, "Do you remember us, the Inner senshi, ever being in this huge jungle? I think Rei was hurt there."

The white cat stare confused, "Um, let me think. I think that was when you girls went and trained for about two months on Eris, it's a jungle planet. You were set to train there for six months but it ended early. Apparently from what I understand one of the knights injured Mars a great deal."

Minako sat thinking. Why did she have this memory now?

â€|.

Usagi didn't see the Knights' bare arms very often. Most of the time because they preferred long shelves. But when she did she always stared. They had tattoos running up and down them, protection circles, magic circles, runes for thousands of things. Usagi had never asked where the tattoos had come from before but considering Tristian had them too she had assumed they were carried over from there past lives.

Now the reason why the tattoos had Usagi attention was that she was watching the male knights glowing tattoos as the held their armored keys. They were so gleefully they had their full powers back.

"Calm down guys. Focus," Callum got their attention.

Tristian reluctantly put out the fire ball in his hand, and focus along with everyone else on Hadi and Sterling, the leaders of the Knights and the Generals.

"Okay, somethings up. That's obvious, so let's talk about it," Sterling opened up the floor to discussion, "Eli?"

Eli frowned, "My cards and the stars aren't giving me answers."

"Callum?"

"I've found nothing on the internet or tv of use," Callum muttered.

"Yu?"

"The police and government are confused but that's it," Yu explained, "There has never been a monster attack outside Japan. There trying to figure out why it was here."

"Guys, it's me."

Everyone looked at Usagi, "Why are we pretending? It was after me. It said they'd kill me."

All the guys turned to Sterling as she rubbed her neck, "Thatâ€¦kindaâ€¦happened."

"We need to figure out what's going on and I think the senshi are involved," Usagi told them as she looked at her broach, "We need to go to Japan."

The room groaned as they all pulled out there phones.

"Wait, it's that easy?" Usagi asked confused as they started making calls to make plans.

"Yeah," Yu replied, "We kinda like living."

>Author's note 2

Minako's past name Psyche is a reference to Cupid and Psyche.

Rei's past name Antiope is the name of an amazon warrior/daughter of Ares.

Ami's past name Rhene is the name of a consort of Hermes.

Makoto's past name is Aega. Aega was a daughter of Zeus.

7. The Thing with Addison and Sterling

Author's Note

I own only my characters. Everything else is Naoko Takeuchi's.

>Chapter 7: The Thing with Addison and Sterling

_They were laughing and smiling. _

_Everything seemed happy, Sterling was standing there acting out a fight for Usagi. _

It ended when a hand suddenly ripped Sterling's heart from her chest.

â€|_.._

Usagi jolted up from her seat sweating.

"Are you okay?" Callum asked looking considered.

Usagi nodded taking a deep breath.

Usagi and company were on a plane currently heading to Japan. It had only taken 3 days to get everything sorted out so they could head on over. The moon princess check her watch they were half way through their 14 hour flight, which on top of their 4 hour drive to the airport had left all 9 of them very tired.

This could be seen by Tristian and Yu being passed out up front. Hadi and Eli were behind them, Eli listening to music while Hadi was reading a book on law for his class next week, his was aiming to be a lawyer.

Not seeing Jasper, Sterling, or Addison Usagi looked around curious she found Jasper in the road across from her. He reading a magazine, feeling the princess' gaze he asked, "Something wrong?"

"She had a wee nightmare," the Irish man said earning a look from Usagi.

"No," Usagi protested, "I was wondering where Addison and Sterling went."

Jasper pointed the front still not looking up.

The heroine followed the finger to see Sterling flirting with the flight attendant, Steven she thinks, while Addison stood to the side looking pissed, as he waited longer on his coke.

"Huh? What's up with Addy?" Usagi asked confused to Callum and Jasper.

"Oh, the classic problem we have with the two," Callum explained as he sipped his water, "so Addison and Sterling, they were a thing in the past."

"Aâ€|.Thing?" Usagi probed unsure.

"They were a thing back in the Silver Millennium," Jasper added still not looking up from his magazine, "they were the prefect couple some would say. Princess Tala and Prince Aeolian, along with you and Endymion it looked like the peace of the Moon and Earth would be sealed in a double marriage between the Moon Princesses and Earth Princes."

"Right, Aeolian was Endymion's brother," Usagi nodded being reminded that Addison was technically Mamoru's brother.

"Yep. So when Addison remembered the whole dating Sterling think he wanted to immediately start dating her you know?" Callum picked up explaining, "It makes sense since you remember your past love and you want to be with them. You remember being happy with them. Like how you feel about Mamoru or I feel about Mercury."

A knot form in Usagi's throat at that but nodded anyway, "So, then what happened?"

"Sterling didn't want to date. Still doesn't," Jasper explained simply, "From what I heard she isn't look for love again. She remembers, same as him, but it doesn't mean the same to her. He needs to accept that."

"Harsh, cut the lad some slack," Callum commented.

"It's the truth, and every time they sleep together or do something coupley it ends up hurt Addison more than anything," Jasper complained, "Remember new year's day?"

"Wait! That's why we were stuck at the General's?! Sterling and Addison were fucking?" Usagi realized angrily.

Callum and Jasper stared at Usagi for a moment before Callum spoke, "You know that word sounds so wrong coming out of your mouth."

"True, never say bad words about Usagi, they ruin your sweet image."

Usagi huffed as it was around this time Sterling game back happy carrying a cup of vodka. Addison followed grumpily.

"So what happened while we were gone?" Sterling asked.

"Nothing!"

â€|..

In a dark room in Japan, a young woman was smiling at her girlfriend of the night, as the girlfriend sat up pulling her shirt on, "Leaving so soon, babe?"

"sorry, Satomi."

"Hitomi."

"Sorry, Hitomi. My boss texted me and I have a bunch to do before my sisters get in."

"Oh, sisters? Hot as you?"

"Its been a while but I bet they're still hot. But too bad their good goodies."

"It's a shame."

The young woman sat on the bed kissing the Hiromi, "sorry, Hitomi. I have to ask, have you embraced the darkness inside?"

Hitomi smiled into her kiss, "Hell yes."

Suddenly darkness engulfed a screaming Hiromi from her producing a flaming two tailed cat in her place with sharp fangs.

The woman sighed, "Every freakin time. Well at least I got a monster out of it."

The monster looked confused at the woman, "Oh, right. You're the monster, Two tails, I'm your master. Aeron. Boy do we have lots to do."

8. We think, therefore we are

Author's Note

I own only my characters such as Sterling, Addison, etc. Also I know the original anime was in the 90's but the stories in the current day (at the time of writing 2016) this is for my writing convenience. Review and thanks.

>Chapter 8: We think, therefore we are

"Amida ga afureru no wa kimi ga soba de hohoemu kara," Sterling sang as she looking down at her phone, "Dakishime takunaru no wa kimi ga soba ni iru kara."

Usagi looked over at her sister giving her a look. She's notâ€|

"Naze umarete kitakanante Kangaete mo wakaranainda," Sterling continued not notcing the look form Usagi, "Dakara ikiru tamashii moyashi ikinuite Mitsukedasu itsuka."

Sterling and Usagi were currently sitting in Azabu-Juuban Park. They had arrived in Tokyo earlier this morning and had after naps in their hotel rooms had developed to investigate.

They had spilt up into four teams to look around. (Team Moon, Team Knight, Team Serious, and Team Pretty Boys as named by Usagi)

So far they had not found anything so they had come back to wait for everyone at the park.

While waiting it seems Sterling had decided to singing catchy tokusatsu themes.

"â€|Atarashi rekishi ni kogidase nakamatachi yo. Warera omou yueni warera ari," Sterling continued singing.

"What are you singing?" Addison asked as he walked up with Jasper and Tristian.

"Warera Omou, Yue Ni Warera Ari. It's by a band called Kishidan," Usagi answered annoyed as Sterling finally stopped singing.

"Not my fault your country makes good music," Sterling replied turning to Jasper and Tristian, "Anything?"

"Not a thing," Jasper explained leaning against the bench the princesses were sitting on, "No energy out of place nothing unusually."

Addison plopped down to sit next to Sterling as Tristian pulled out a soccer ball from his back pack to dribble while thinking.

"Damn, maybe the others had better luck?" Sterling asked hopefully as she ran a hand threw her blonde hair.

Usagi sighed, she hoping too. The quicker the Knights, Generals, and her solved the problem the quicker they could head home and hopefully avoidâ€|

"Usagi?!"

The moon princess tensed and looked shocked at the Inner Senshi coming towards her.

â€|..

Aeron loved berries.

She smiled as she popped another in her mouth.

The first thing she asked for when she had awaked according to her master had been berries. That's how she got the name Aeron, it meant berry.

Right now she was eating a whole bag of them as she watching the Inner Senshi approached Serenity and the Knights.

Oh she had not expected this today but she was going to enjoy it.

She snapped her fingers to create a shield so no civilians could get in.

â€|.

Tristian was the first to react to the approaching Senshi latching his soccer ball at Makoto knocking her back, shocking the other senshi.

"Don't come any closer," Sterling order using her leader voice.

"Sterling," Usagi tugged on her sleeve as Sterling got up. She didn't want to deal with the senshi right now but she didn't want to hurt them either. Yes they had hurt her but she didn't want to hurt them, at least not like the Knights wanted too.

"What's the big idea?!" Makoto demanded getting up from the hit, man that kid could kick.

"Usagi, who are these people?! Are you okay?! Where have you been?!" Minako shot off her questions getting closer to them.

Sterling pulled off her hood and walked to stand in front of Minako, "I said don't get closer."

Addison stood up cracking his knuckles smirking as Jasper glared as was Tristian.

"Sterling, please. I don't want you fighting," Usagi pleaded.

Minako's eyes went wide as she looked at Sterling, "Ta-Tala?"

"Seems you remember me, cousin," Sterling acknowledged, "Now remember I'm not a force to be messed with and leave. Usagi will talk to you when and if she's ready. You've already done enough damage."

Minako was confused at this point but luckily Rei took over for her, "You don't understand what's going on."

"I understand I will be kicking your ass if you don't leave," Tristian responded as he removed his armor key from his key ring.

"What was that you little brat?" Makoto growled stepping forward only to be stopped by Addison.

"Back up, sparky," Addison threatened, "Your opponent will be me if we fight."

"Addison!" Usagi shouted at the nineteen year old.

"One chance. Leave. Usagi doesn't want us to fight," Sterling explained calmly, "She is our princess. She was your princess. Have some common sense and walk away."

The senshi shared a look, then looked at Usagi. She was right there. Only a couple feet away, behind these rude foreigners. They needed to talk to her. Protect her, explain things.

"MERCURY CRYSTAL POWER!"

"MARS CRYSTAL POWER!"

"JUPITER CRYSTAL POWER!"

"VENUS CRYSTAL POWER!"

Usagi saw what was happening and immediately yelled, "Please don't say make up!"

"MAKE UP!"

Within seconds the Sailor Senshi were here.

Usagi looked annoyed, "And they said make up." She looked at the knights, "Don't you dare metal up!"

"METAL UP!"

"And you metal upedâ€¦."

A gold and silver knight, Silver and blue knight, black and blue knight, and a red and black knight stood there waiting.

The sailor senshi eyed the knights fearfully and curiously.

"Now tell me," The gold knight, Sterling, began looking at Venus, "Have you accepted the light inside?"

"Wh-what?" Venus looked confused.

The silver and blue knight, Addison, looked at Jupiter and asked, "Jupiter, have you felt the quick pain of justice?"

Jupiter looked at Addison as if he was crazy.

Jasper, the black and blue knight, glanced at the quiet Mercury, "Have you told your cold truth yet?"

Mercury shivered at that.

Tristian felt the flames at his finger tips and looked at the ready to fight Mars, "So, Mars. Have you ignited your bravery?"

Mars simply reared back and launched a fire soul at him.

"and now you're fighting," Usagi noticed pulling out her broach and cell phone.

The song Sterling's singing is the theme to Kamen Rider Ghost, its a good song also a good series.

Kunzite's present name is Hadi Kader. Hadi being arabic for "leader" because he is leader of the Shinnetou and Kader for "capable". Meaning he's a capable leader. His name is Arabic and he is Arabic because hes's the General of the Middle east.

Zoisite's present name is Callum Eszes. Eszes is a Hungarian name meaning "clever" this a reference to him being brilliant, while his given name Callum means "dove" this is a reference to him being the most peaceful and calm of the generals. His name is European to reflect him being the general of Europe, this is also why he is Irish.

Nephrite's present name is Eli Starr. Eli means "ascension" and it is also the name of a prophet. A hint at his ability to read the stars. Starr is again a call back to him being able to read the stars and tell the future. He is in charge of north america so he has an "american name".

Jadeite's present name is Yu Wen. Yu means "precious stone, jade, gem" in Chinese. This of course is a call back to not only his 'true' name but all the generals. His last name means "culture" which alludes to Yu being a person of two cultures as his father is Chinese while his mother is American. His name is Chinese cause he's the general of the far east.

9. Knights vs Senshi

Author's Note

Geez, finals are killing me. Writing this is like a break for me. I own only my characters. This has a bit more humor, I feel like it needed it. Also reviews welcome and such. They're encouragement. Thanks and enjoyment.

>Chapter 9: Knights vs Senshi

Hadi and Eli sighed as they sat in the tree outside the outer senshi's house. Nothing had happened so far with them and it was quite annoying. They figured they would know something over any of the others but so far nothing had happened.

Hadi sighed and figured it was time to leave pulling out his phone to call Yu and Callum when it started buzzing.

Eli leaned over to read who was calling and saw the name Bunny Shields, "Usagi?"

The Shinnteou leader nodded and hit the green button and whispered, "Usagi?"

"STERLING AND THE BOYS ARE FIGHTING MINAKO AND THE GIRLS!"

Hadi held the phone away from his ear as Eli looked at the phone super concerned, "WHAT?!"

The older man shushed the younger one pointing to the house whispered to the phone, "Wait, what? I thought we agreed not to interact with the inners? That held too many variables. What the hell, Usagi?"

"THE SENSHI JUST APPEARED AND STERLING GOT OFFEND LIKE SHE DOES
â€"

"of course."

"AND THEN TRISTIAN THREATED MARS-"

"WHY?!"

"AND THEN ADDISON CALLED JUPITER SPARKY-"

"Damn it."

"HE DID WHAT?!"

"NOW EVERYONE TRANSFORMED AND ARE FIGHTING!"

Hadi gave Eli that told to calm down, "It's okay, Usagi. Just tell me this. And this is the difference between this being bad or unfortunate. Usagi, did the knights asks the questions? Those questions about light, bravery, and stuff."

"The speech? Yes."

"Don't do anything till we get there okay."

"Sure."

Hadi hung up and looked at Eli, "We need to book it! They gave the speech they give before they plan on killing someone!"

â€|..

Haruka looked up from her game, "Hotaru turned down the tv!"

"I don't have the tv on!"

"I can hear yelling of course it's on!"

"It's not on, Haruka-Papa!"

Man, Hotaru was becoming so argumentative lately.

â€|

Sailor Mercury sized up her opponent. While she didn't remember him personally she did remember the basics of the Mystic Knights.

They were knights trained to be a peace keeping force throughout the solar system. They were trained on Eris and eventually to up an armor and ideal they used.

How the knight perceived the idea determined their powers, and they always had two weapons, their sword and their personal weapon.

Mercury deduced by the knight's speech his powers must involve cold as he mentioned a cold truth. He was the knight of truth? She looked at his sword and saw it was a rapier. Which means he will be attacking with thrusts.

"Mercury, you're smart. Tell me," The knight started as he pulled the sword from the sheath, "Are you really going to fight me?"

Glaring she twirled her hands, "Mercury Aqua Rhapsody!"

The water soared towards the knight, he shook his head as he swiped his sword at it watching it become ice.

The Senshi of Water stared confused, "Who-Who are you?"

The knight gave her a look, "I am the Knight of Truth, Sir Alecto of Nix. Now, please accept the truth. You're going to lose."

â€|.

Mars and the black knight were keeping pace with each other very well. It surprised her.

Every time Mars launched a "fire arrow" at him he would fire back with a "flame rocket" and they were both rolling out of the way so none were hitting.

Honestly Mars was getting pissed, "Fuckin kid! Stop running!"

The knight stopped moving as flames covered his body, "Don't call me kid!"

â€|.

Jupiter rubbed her jaw, damn the dude could punch.

Unfortunately Jupiter had figured out why the brown haired dude had wanted to be her opponent, her electric attacks were useless as he had the same powers. So that had led them to a good old fashion brawl.

So far Jupiter had a bleeding nose and the knight's, Addison she thinks Usagi called him, had his armor on his left destroyed.

"You know what Justice is?" Addison asked.

Jupiter gave him a look, "It's the wrong being made right."

"It's also quick and painful," the knight commented as his foot connected to her stomach "so tell me, how does justice feel to you?"

â€|..

From the looks of it Venus was having the best luck out of all the Senshi.

She whipped her chain at Tala only to have it intercepted by a Tala's chain-sickle.

"Psyche you can't win. You never beat me," Tala taunted as she rushed forward aiming for Venus's head, "And with

Venus rolled out of the way and yelled out aiming her finger, "Crescent Beam!"

Tala reared her arm back, "Meteor Punch!"

A blast of white and orange energy blasts crashed sending everything and everyone flying.

Venus groaned as she looked up to see a gold katana in her face.

"Like I said, Psyche," Tala's helmet retracted so that Venus could see her face, "You've never beaten me and you aren't going to start now."

Suddenly Sailor Moon's wand was connecting to Tala's head.

"Fuck!" Tala dropped the sword and rubbed her head but Sailor Moon continued her assault, "Sterling Esther Aydan!"

"Don't use my full name!" the gold knight protested through the attack.

"Sterling Esther Aydan! I told you not to fight them! We will talk about this later but for now know that your princess is displeased!"

"I'm in trouble," Tala muttered.

Sailor Moon stopped her assault and gave Venus a dirty look, "I don't know if Sterling would have gone through with it. But know, that your luck I stop her from doing anything more, Minako. I'm still angry at you, I remember what you did."

Venus looked down at the ground as she heard Sailor Moon call to the other knights.

"Sailor Moon!"

The Senshi of Venus looked up and gasped as the Shinnetou appeared. All four: Kunzite, Jadeite, Nephrite, and Zoisite.

"I told you to wait till we got here!" Kunzite told Sailor Moon as she walked up dragging the red knight behind her.

"You were taking too long," Sailor Moon commented before turning towards the senshi, "Do not look for me. The Knights beat you, now imagine them with the Shinnetou. If I ever feel like talking to you traitors I will contact you. Let's go guys!"

Sailor Moon jumped away followed by the knights, the generals paused their gaze lingering on them.

Venus's eyes meet Kunzite before he and the generals left.

As Sailor Venus turned back into Minako Aino she looked at her battled senshi and felt tears well up in her eyes, "God Damn it."

â€|.

Aeron sighed as her fun ended.

She balled up her bag and stuffed it in her jacket pocket and stretched.

"I suppose I should tell master about this development."

>Author's Note 2

Okay, reasoning for the Knights coming out on top in this fight:

1) The Knights planned the fight so they had the advantage Ex: Jupiter lightning not working on Addison.

2) the Knights do train more in this life time than the senshi

3) the knights had surprise on their side, they remember more about the senshi than the senshi remember the knights

4) Senshi were holding back because they were human and friends of Usagi

5) the knights weren't holding back because of how the Senshi treated Usagi

Usagi's English cover name Bunny Shields is a reference to the original English prints of the manga. Bunny was Usagi's English name while Shields was Mamoru's last name.

Sterling's weapons are a kusarigama and a katana sword

Though you don't see them this chapter:

Addison's weapon is are tonfas and a longsword

Japer's weapon is a bow and a rapier

Tristian's weapon is a JÅ«monji yari and a cutlass
